Richard,
Although the OIG does not possess any actual video files related to this matter (I'm double-checking this), we did compile a spreadsheet of the various links to videos that we received (attached). I have not personally reviewed each of these, but I hope it will go a long way toward getting the NPF folks what they are looking for.

Also note the possibility that some links may have expired over time (though in a very cursory spot check that I did, all of the links I clicked were still active).

I am also checking with one more employee whether we have additional video links, though I doubt it; if my staff locates any, I will forward those along too.

Mark,

AS you know the NPF is doing the after action report of the civil unrest. We had a call with their team yesterday and I discussed your office had been reviewing social medial and other public space available video.

If you could give me a call re their having access to just the video as they are also scrubbing for the same video.

Give me a call to discuss.
